

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR PROFESSIONAL TRAINING PROGRAM

INTELLIGENCE TESTING FOR THE COUNSELOR

PRESENTED BY

MATTHEW J. MAURIELLO, MA

FRIDAY JANUARY 15, 2020 (9:00AM TO 12:00PM)

Course Overview

Designed for professionals with little or no assessment background, or a great refresher course for those who have not been exposed to testing for some time. Counselors will learn the basics of intellectual testing along with advanced methods of delivering feedback to clients on testing results.

Intellectual abilities are associated with a number of life outcomes. Being able to assess and understand these abilities can be important to the course of treatment for a client.

In this workshop, Matthew Mauriello will expose counselors to the theory and application of intelligence testing. Learn how to expand your skills and services offered to your clients.

Course Objectives

- Describe how to communicate intelligence test results in client-friendly language.
- Describe the legal issues and ethical uses of intelligence testing.
- Describe the structure of common intelligence tests.
- Describe the statistical terms for reporting intelligence testing results.
- Describe the components of Cattell-Horn-Carroll (CHC) Theory of cognitive abilities.

Matthew J. Mauriello is a Licensed Professional Counselor and Licensed Behavior Specialist. Through his background in psychometrics, he has frequently administered intelligence tests to clients during his career. He takes a neurological perspective to client functioning from his extensive experience working with clients with ADHD, TBI, and other neurological conditions. He is the owner and president of The Mauriello Group, a counseling practice in West Chester, Pennsylvania.
